Dear RMHC supporters

As RMHC Ireland marks two decades of dedicated service, its mission remains as crucial as ever. By ensuring families stay united throughout their child's medical journey, RMHC Ireland not only eases the financial strain of accommodation but also provides a vital support system for families navigating unimaginable challenges.

We're excited to announce that Clancy Construction has almost completed the construction of our new 52-bedroom Ronald McDonald House on the St James's Hospital campus in Dublin. Our new House will serve as a comforting haven for families whose children require inpatient care at the New Children's Hospital. With a focus on providing direct access to the hospital, this project aims to keep families in close proximity to their children during critical moments. The new Ronald McDonald House stands as an integral component of the broader development of the New Children's Hospital, poised to become a cutting-edge healthcare facility for children.

There are numerous ways through which you can contribute to the continued success of the Jingle Bell Ball. We would greatly appreciate your consideration of sponsoring one of the packages outlined below. Co-sponsorship proposals are warmly welcomed, and all sponsorships and donations will receive extensive recognition during the event. Your generous support will significantly impact the lives of many families, offering them the assistance and solidarity they desperately need during challenging times.
